

TRAC H₂O™ will change the way you think about water treatment.

ANTRAC Technologies has always been known in the industry as a leading provider of safe, non-toxic, and environmentally friendly solutions to scale removal. Taking it one step further ANTRAC has now engineered a revolutionary water treatment chemical for all water systems, TRAC H₂O™!

Unlike traditional water treatment chemicals that clump solids together, TRAC H₂O™ actually separates the solids, allowing the water molecule itself to absorb them. This results in unprecedented low TDS ratios. Probably the single best benefit for this is water savings which can reach up to 85%! Keeping system TDS at a very low ratio, dramatically reduces the amount of bleed needed in a system. Less water consumption translates in to savings!!

Application:

Adapting a system to TRAC H₂O™ water treatment is very simple. One small container of this “green” solution, a metering pump, and a conductivity meter is all you need to start saving money!

Another great benefit of this product is its efficiency; only .001% of the total systems gallonage is needed to treat a system. No large containers of toxic chemicals to store or handle!

Safety:

- TRAC H₂O™ is safe for your maintenance personnel.
- Based on current EPA guidelines, TRAC H₂O™ is classified as non-flammable and meets all requirements regarding hazardous and dangerous materials.
